This Week's Spotlight is on...

Mason Stoeger

Every athlete trains with the hope of competing in the finals of the state series. Mason Stoeger was able to live that dream Friday. He was one of the top 30 class A individuals and top 20 teams invited to compete in the ShaZam event held at Three Sisters Park in Chillicothe. The invitations were based on the qualifying standards for the canceled IHSA state meet which Mason met with his 9th place finish at the Seneca Sectional. Mason finished the season with an 18:10 on the tough 5K to finish 87th. As a club event they were not allowed to wear school uniforms but Knight Pride was evident in his efforts.

Have a Happy and Healthy week! God Bless!

News and Notes

- Fieldcrest High School will recognize Veterans on Wednesday, November 11 during a Veterans Day Virtual Assembly at 11:45. Staff and students will welcome back

Mrs. Barb Wertz, who was our guest speaker in 2016. This year, she is returning to provide a message as to what this Veterans Day means to her. A member of the 129th RTI (Regimental Training Institute) in Springfield, Mrs. Wertz retired from the reserves after spending a total of 27 years serving our country. She currently resides in Eureka, IL and continues to serve through her position as a special education teacher. In addition to our speaker, FHS will be honoring local Veterans with a gift from the Key Club and Student Council, to those whose names and addresses were shared last week. Thank you to those who have contacted the school!

- Vintage Hitchcock: A Live Radio Drama... Last spring, the Fieldcrest Drama Department was forced to cancel their production for the first time in Fieldcrest history. Over the summer, it became clear a regular show would not be possible this fall, but creativity exists even in adversity. We brainstormed and came up with the idea of performing or creating a radio drama. After meeting with students, we narrowed our selection down to "Vintage Hitchcock: A Live Radio Drama" by reading selections of shows aloud. Immediately, the timeless power of a Hitchcock radio play was evident to the students and they embraced the plan. Since Covid restrictions remain in place, a live audience will be impossible, but we wanted to find a way to offer families a chance to view our final product. We are working with Playscripts Inc, to offer a live stream option for our production of "Vintage Hitchcock: A Live Radio Drama." The live stream of the show will take place on Nov. 14, 2020 at 7:00 p.m. There will be a cost to stream the video and a link with instructions will be provided this week! To help support the cost of live stream rights, local businesses have purchased advertising. Students are creating custom ads for our local supporters and will air them during our live stream show. Music for the show will be provided by a small jazz group. Theatre continues to be alive and well at Fieldcrest! More information will be advertised in next week's Happenings.
